(PB0102) Suppose P, Q and R are mathematical statements (so they are either true or false). Let's say we know that if Q is true then P is true, and that if Q is false then R is false. Does R imply P? Write down either a proof, or a counterexample.